I wrote this poem for my odler brother's homework and it is about what I think our earth is becoming. I wanna be a poetess or a writer when I'm older, so, as always, comments are welcome

1 - Environment

Environmental Poem!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

The forests are going down like fleas, animals are losing homes- even bees. Global warming & salination, so much havoc and contamination. All animals are losing their necessities, leave them so they can rest at ease. Water is constantly being polluted and trees are always being uprooted. Pollution is everywhere even in the seven seas, smokes are puffing smoke into the breeze. Animals, environments, all them are dying, and these selfish people are multiplying. So stop committing your dreadful sins, and out all your rubbish into the bins. So please stop your bad habits and do your bit- look at what you're doing and if it's wrong stop it!
