Chapter 1 - Thank You

1 - Thank You

Disclaimers: I don't in any way own Death Note or the characters.

Thank you

L sat down in a chair, a plate of cake in hand. He had gotten quite used to being chained up to Raito. He still after all suspected him. However, he knew that the chains had to be removed. He picked up the slice of cake and plopped it into his mouth. Then, he tilted his head to the right as he continued to rethink his past action. He swiped a finger on the plate, collecting traces of icing. So into his thoughts, instead of placing his finger in his mouth, it had landed on his cheek.

Suddenly, in comes Misa. She looked excited and why shouldn't she? Her light was relieved of the horror of sharing the state of bondage with another guy. Not just any guy. Ryuuzaki, the guy she still thought of as quite a pervert and most likely of something else. Now she felt she could spend more time alone with Raito without the company of another & observant spectator that would be closer to her light than her.

Misa froze at the sight of the daydreaming L. She looked at him and literally watched him closely. They were so close their noses barely touched. A white substance caught her eyes with a cloud-like texture clinging on the detective's cheek. She had no clue why it had caught her attention and why she felt the creeping hands of temptation.

Her hands enclosed over L's shoulder and she licked the fluffy goodness from his face. When he came to, he felt soft lips upon his skin accompanied by a soft smack. Misa, noticing his inquiring eyes nervously and incoherently tried to explain.

Consider it a thank you from Misa!

She exclaimed in conclusion to her explanations and then scuttled off nervously, leaving the detective confused, shocked and speechless, his fingers tracing the area her lips touched.

A/N: I surprise myself sometimes& Well here's a little L/Misa story inspired by the 30 kisses fanfic. I haven't been reading Death Note in a while and probably should start rereading everything I'm a little worried about the characterization.
