This poem was written for my grandpa and it was put into his casket before he was buried. I wrote it before we went to the funeral. It has been published recently and i hope to have more peoms published in the years to come.

1 - Hello Goodbye

Hello, Goodbye

We're here to say our last hello
With friends and family gathered
We'll all miss you now that you're gone
But I know that you're looking down on us and that you will be in our hearts
Now that we said what had to be said
We can say our last goodbye this isn't a chapter or a story but a very important part of me to my grandpa. Thank you for reading.
